ANNOUNCING THE NANZAN UNIVERSITY
CENTER FOR JAPANESE STUDIES (CJS)
VISITING FACULTY PROGRAM

Dear Friends,

Nanzan University is extending its application period for the 2021-2022 academic year Center for Japanese Studies (CJS) Visiting Faculty Program.

In order to strengthen collaborative efforts with its student exchange partner schools, Nanzan University will host a few partner school faculty members from the field of Japanese Area Studies for the Fall 2021 semester. This visiting faculty members will teach one or more courses and carry out research at Nanzan University in exchange for a modest stipend and remuneration for courses taught. The details of the program are explained on the following pages. The extended application deadline is 15 April 2021 for the 2021-2022 academic year:

2021 Fall Semester: September 2021 to December 2021 (four months, one person)

We hope that participating in this Visiting Faculty Program will help strengthen ties between our institutions by offering an opportunity for faculty from our partner schools to teach and carry out research at Nanzan University, and enable the CJS to enrich and diversify its program.

I would appreciate it very much if you could make the information about the program available to the faculty of the appropriate departments at your institution, such as Japanese and Asian Studies departments, as well as staff of the International Office. If you have any questions about the program, please do not hesitate to contact us at the Center for Japanese Studies, Nanzan University, cjs-office@ic.nanzan-u.ac.jp

With my best regards,

Takakazu Yamagishi, Ph.D.
Director, Center for International Affairs

NANZAN UNIVERSITY CENTER FOR JAPANESE STUDIES (CJS)
VISITING FACULTY PROGRAM
2021-2022 ACADEMIC YEAR

The Nanzan University Center for Japanese Studies (CJS) has a Visiting Faculty Program to strengthen collaborative efforts with its student exchange partner schools. Every year, Nanzan University invites from among its exchange partner schools faculty members in the field of Japanese Area Studies to teach and conduct research under the following conditions.

VISITING FACULTY MEMBER'S OBLIGATIONS:

- 1) The Visiting Faculty Member will teach one and more courses in Japanese Area Studies (e.g., literature, culture, society, history, politics, economics, business, international relations, etc.), at Nanzan University in the 2021 Fall semester (September-December, 2021), during his/her period of stay. The area studies courses are taught in English.
- 2) The Visiting Faculty Member is expected to use the stay at Nanzan to continue his or her own research and engage in scholarly dialog with Nanzan University faculty members, and is encouraged to participate in CJS and University activities.

NANZAN UNIVERSITY WILL PROVIDE THE FOLLOWING:

- 1) 100,000 yen stipend per month; this is to cover both travel and living expenses. No additional funding for travel to and from Japan will be provided.
However, please note that the stipend will be approximately 79,580 yen net per month, with 20,420 yen withheld as income tax for those who come from countries or regions that do not have tax treaties with Japan covering academic positions.
Also, please note that accommodation will not be provided by Nanzan University but will be the responsibility of the visiting scholar. However, information on apartments or other possible housing options will be provided upon request, including a Nanzan University guest lecturer accommodation facility.
- 2) Remuneration for the course(s) taught (from 310,000 to 360,000 yen per semester for each course for a typical 30-class-hour, three-credit course, depending upon teaching experience and academic rank)
- 3) A faculty office with internet connection
- 4) Use of the Nanzan University Library

APPLICATION PROCEDURES:

Those interested in applying to the program should submit the following documents to the address below by April 15, 2021.

- 1) A curriculum vitae including the applicant's educational and professional history.
- 2) A short description of the course(s) that the applicant could offer at Nanzan CJS.
- 3) A short description of current research interests and projects that could be carried out at Nanzan University.
- 4) A short description of the potential future contribution at the home institution.
- 5) A letter of recommendation from the applicant's department head.

SELECTION PROCESS:

Applicants may be contacted by e-mail or telephone to confirm the details of the application.

Applicants for the program will be screened by the Japanese Language and Area Studies Program Sub-Committee of the Center for International Education, recommended by the Center for International Education Committee for approval to the Nanzan University Senate, and finally appointed by the President of Nanzan University. Notification of acceptance will be given by the end of May 2021.

NOTE: Applicants who have been selected and have completed the program are not eligible to apply again.
